K.Town Liquor Boutique, Gitesi, Karongi

Version 1.0, October 2026

The brand

Where Lake Kivu meets the glass

K.Town is a liquor boutique, café and terrace above Lake Kivu in Karongi. Guests come for a glass of wine at sunset, an iced coffee on the terrace, a fresh juice after a day on the lake, and a quiet room for the night. The brand should feel like the place: warm, relaxed, a little elegant, proudly Rwandan and at ease with visitors from anywhere.

Warm	We greet everyone like a regular. Murakaza neza, bienvenue, welcome: the first words are always a welcome.
Refined, not fussy	Good glasses, clean design, prices that are easy to read. Nothing loud, nothing cluttered.
Rooted	Lake Kivu, the hills, kitenge on the tables, the K.TOWN sign glowing at night. Local pride in every detail.
Easy for the world	Three languages, clear prices in RWF with a dollar guide, order from the table, pay with MoMo.

Our promise

A great drink, a great view and an easy visit: order from your table, pay when you're ready, and come back for the next event.

Who we welcome

International travellers and tourists, Rwandan visitors from Kigali and beyond, guests staying in our rooms, and Karongi friends who come for events.

"Where Lake Kivu meets the glass" is a suggested brand line for social media, signs and the future website. The official name stays K.Town Liquor Boutique.

Logo

One glass, one K

The K is a corkscrew opening a glass of wine. Keep it exactly as drawn: always from the original files in assets/img/brand.

Full logo. First choice whenever there is room.

Mark. App icon, small spaces, centre of the QR code.

Wordmark. Wide spaces, next to the mark on photos.

On white and light paper: black and wine.

On wine: white, with rosé wine in the glass.

On black or a dark photo: white and rosé.

Space and size

- Clear space: keep empty space around the logo at least the height of the "O" in TOWN.
- Smallest full logo: 25 mm wide in print, 120 px on screen.
- Smallest mark: 8 mm in print, 32 px on screen.
- On photos, add a soft dark gradient behind the logo so it stays readable.

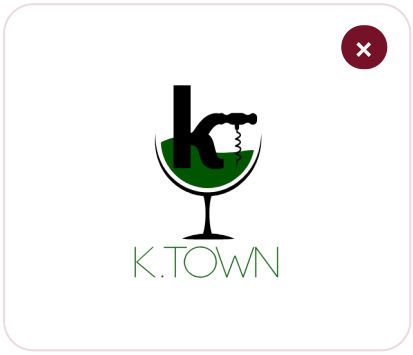

Logo

Please don't

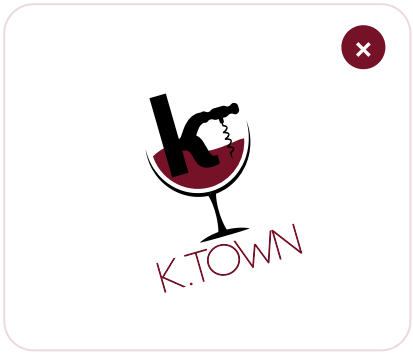

A logo becomes a brand when it looks the same everywhere: on the sign, the menu, WhatsApp and the receipt.

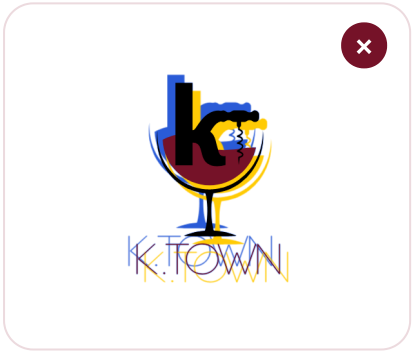

Stretch or squash it.

Change its colours.

Rotate or tilt it.

Add outlines, glows, shadows or 3D.

Put it on a busy photo without a dark overlay.

Retype the name in another font.

Colour

The colours of the logo

Wine, black and white come straight from the logo file. Use mostly white, black for words, and wine for the one thing that matters most on the page.

K.Town Wine

HEX #751228
RGB 117 18 40
CMYK 0 85 66 54

Black

HEX #000000
RGB 0 0 0
CMYK 0 0 0 100

White

HEX #FFFFFF
RGB 255 255 255

Supporting tints

Blush

#F7EEF0. Soft backgrounds, labels, selected items.

Rosé

#D68A97. The wine in the logo on dark backgrounds.

Deep wine

#4F0B1A. Pressed buttons, dark accents.

Balance

White 60% | Black 30% | Wine 10%

- Wine text on white has a contrast of about 11:1, so it reads well at any size. Rosé is for the logo and decoration, never for small text.
- For printing, give the printer the HEX and CMYK values and approve a printed proof before a big order: screens and paper show colour differently.
- Staff screens use amber (preparing) and green (ready) for order status only, always together with a word.

Typography

Two typefaces, two jobs

Both are free Google Fonts (SIL Open Font License) and are already built into the K.Town system.

Jost

The voice of the logo. Round and geometric like the K.TOWN letters. For headings, text, prices, buttons and signs.

Cormorant Garamond

The host's voice. A classic italic for menu section titles, greetings and short headlines. Never for long text or numbers.

Greeting, Cormorant italic	Welcome to K.Town
Menu section, Cormorant italic	Fresh juice
Item and price, Jost Medium	Mango juice 5,000
Description, Jost Regular	Ripe mango, blended smooth.
Total, Jost Medium	RWF 14,500

- Write in sentence case. Spaced capitals are kept for table names and the "Liquor Boutique" line, an echo of the wordmark.
- On menus, show prices without the currency and say "Prices in Rwandan francs (RWF)" once. Totals are written "RWF 14,500".
- If Jost is missing in Word or Canva, use Futura or Century Gothic; for Cormorant, use Garamond Italic.

Shape and photography

The pour line

The wave of wine inside the logo is K.Town's one graphic shape. It finishes a photo, closes a dark panel or divides a page. Once per layout is enough.

White over photos (menu cover, table cards, poster). A thin wine line on paper (printed menu). Wine under dark panels (owner dashboard).

Real K.Town, real light

Do

- Use our own photos: the lake, the terrace, the sign at night.
- Natural daylight, one drink as the hero.
- Show the kitenge, the view or the person enjoying it.
- Shoot from where the guest sits.

Don't

- Use flash or dark, blurry photos.
- Leave bottles, phones and bills on the table.
- Use stock photos of other places.
- Add heavy filters or text on the photo.

Voice

Write like a good host talks

Short, warm and clear. Greet first, say what happens next, use plain words. Guests read us in English, French and Kinyarwanda.

In use

The brand at work

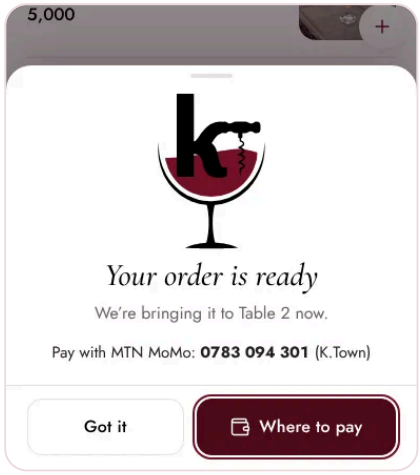

Every piece below is made by the K.Town system from the same menu, so prices and items always match.

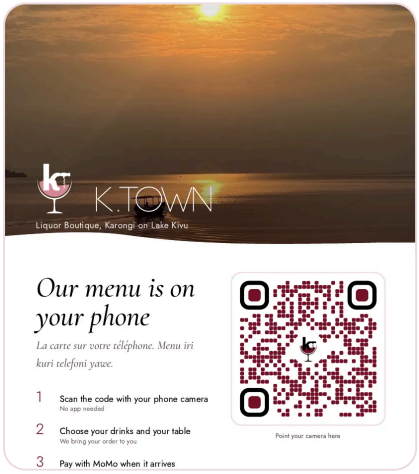

QR table card, one per table

Digital menu on the guest's phone

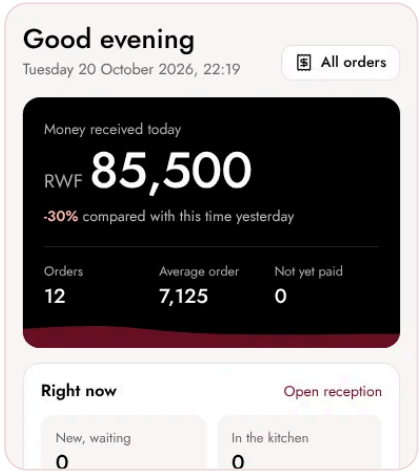

"Ready, here is where to pay"

Poster for the entrance and counter

Printed menu for guests without a smartphone

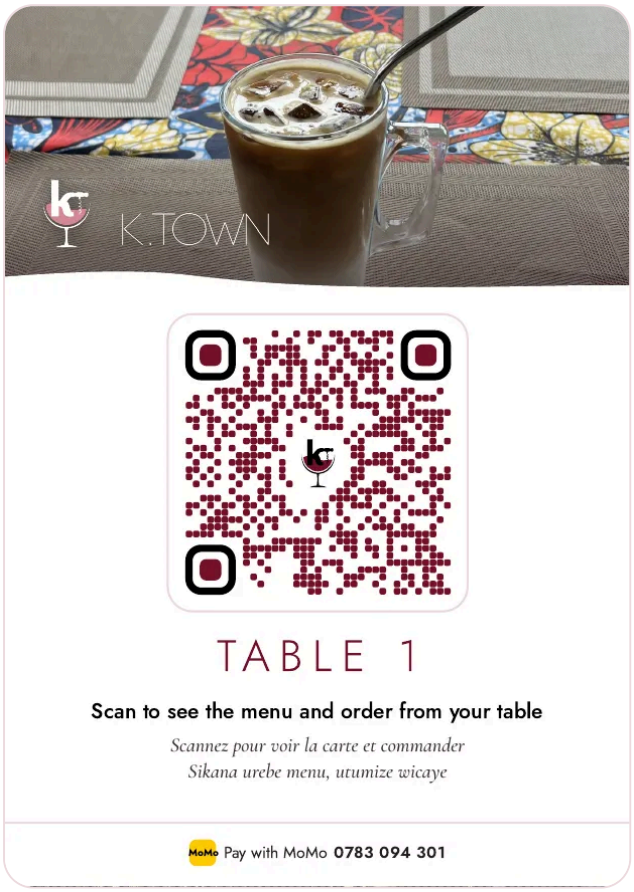

Owner dashboard on the phone

QR codes

The K.Town QR code

Wine dots, black corners and the K.Town mark in the centre. The system makes one for every table in Owner dashboard, Tables & QR.

- Print the code at least 3 cm wide; 4 to 5 cm on table cards (ours are 5 cm).
- Keep the white margin around it, and always put it on a white panel, never straight on a photo or a dark colour.
- Keep the web address short (for example ktown-karongi.netlify.app or menu.ktown.rw): shorter addresses make simpler codes that scan faster.
- Test every printed code with two different phones before it goes on a table.
- Each table has its own code. Renaming a table keeps the same code, so printed cards keep working.
- Print again only when the web address changes.
- Put the code where people sit: in a stand on each table, on the counter, at the entrance.
